Something on which We can Agree

Universities get access to industry resources, channels for translating research to tangible benefits, insight into practical issues that need to be addressed, exposure to industry.

Industries get access to university subject matter experts, leading resources, insight into new research developments, exposure to potential pool of graduate talent.

Addressing Public as well as Regulatory Concerns

- It is not always enough to not be wrong
 - Lack of understanding \neq positive impression
 - Lack of understanding = negative impression
- A level of confidence makes it easier to communicate

Not only reputation, but the integrity of the work itself comes into question.

Taking a Holistic Approach

- A view that goes beyond the needs of an individual office or requirement.
- Eliminate duplicative an inconsistent identification.
- Instead allow multiple offices and requirements to use subsets of the same information.
